

GENERAL MEDICINE STUDIES JANUARY ANSWERS

QUESTIONS	ANSWERS
1. The maximum daily dose of acetaminophen is 4 g for adults and ___ mg/kg for children. a. 40 b. 60 c. 90 d. 100	c
2. Patients with a serum pH level more than 7.30 after fluid resuscitation have a particularly poor prognosis. a. True b. False	b
3. The Rumack-_____ nomogram is used to determine the appropriate dose and timing of N-acetylcysteine therapy. a. Matthew b. Michael c. Mark d. Milton	a
4. Only half the patients who meet criteria for transplantation are able to be treated because they are either too critically ill to undergo transplantation or they die before a suitable organ match is available. a. True b. False	a